STAFF PETITION FOR RELIEF IN THE MATTER OF:

Curtis S. Ridlon (CRD # 1405226)

C-2015000011

- I. The State of New Hampshire, Department of State, Bureau of Securities Regulation (hereinafter referred to as “the Bureau”), hereby petitions the Director, and makes the following statement of facts:

STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. Curtis S. Ridlon (hereinafter “Ridlon”) currently resides in Hooksett, New Hampshire. Ridlon was employed by Waddell & Reed Inc. (hereinafter “Waddell”) from August of 1985 until his resignation on or about October 14, 2016. Waddell is both a securities broker-dealer and a registered investment adviser serving clients nationwide. Ridlon was licensed by the Bureau as a registered representative of Waddell since at least February 7, 1989 and licensed by the Bureau as an investment adviser representative with Waddell since at least June 28, 1998. Ridlon terminated his employment with Waddell in October 2016 and is no longer licensed as a securities professional in New Hampshire or elsewhere.
2. On June 19, 2015, the Bureau received a written complaint against Ridlon and Waddell from former clients of Ridlon alleging, in part, that they paid annual fees ranging from $8,000 - $10,000 and that “something did not seem right.” Upon receipt of this complaint, the Bureau commenced an investigation. From the fall of 2015 through early 2016, the Bureau proceeded with its investigation of the complaint, which included requesting and reviewing relevant documents, interviewing the complainants, and interviewing Ridlon, his associates, and his supervisors. Based on what the Bureau learned through its investigation, the Bureau determined it prudent to expand its investigation to include other clients of Ridlon. Ultimately, after extensive investigation and interviewing over eighty (80) of Ridlon's clients the Bureau determined that Ridlon had committed a widespread fraud against many of his clients over a period of approximately eight years. This fraud allowed Ridlon to fraudulently obtain up to two million, eight hundred thousand dollars ($2,800,000) in fees from those same clients. Many of Ridlon's clients are in their 60s, 70s and 80s with his oldest client being 98 years old.

3. As part of Waddell's investment adviser business, it offers optional financial planning to clients and has a wide array of proprietary financial planning products from which to choose. Fees for these financial planning products are either set by Waddell and non-negotiable or, for some advisers like Ridlon, are variable and Waddell expects the fee to be negotiated by the agent and the client. Despite whether the fees charged were fixed or negotiable, when Ridlon engaged in financial planning for clients, he was operating as an investment adviser to those clients. As such, Ridlon was a fiduciary to those clients and had a duty to act primarily for their benefit.
4. Based on its investigation, the Bureau determined that Ridlon engaged in a scheme to defraud up to two hundred and eight (208) clients of millions of dollars over a period of at least eight (8) years by deceiving those clients into believing that they were required to pay an annual fee for management of their accounts when in reality Ridlon was having them sign up for unnecessary optional financial planning.
 - a. Nearly every client that the Bureau interviewed was lead to believe that the financial planning contract they signed each year, known as the Financial Planning Services Agreement (hereinafter "FPSA"): 1) was required; 2) was primarily for Ridlon to continue managing their accounts; and 3) that the fee charged was based on a percentage of the value of their accounts as calculated by Ridlon. As for the financial planning booklets they received each year, these clients believed that the financial planning products, although unwanted, were an ancillary benefit of the annual fee and not something they could opt out of. Many of Ridlon's clients assert that they had no need for extensive financial planning year after year, to which they attached little to no value, but only paid the fee because they were lead to believe that it was required if they wanted to keep their accounts with Waddell. Not only did these clients neither want nor need such extensive financial planning services but the high frequency with which Ridlon sold these unnecessary services to his clients is wholly improper.

b. Many of Ridlon's clients assert that they would not have paid for these financial planning services as a separate fee if given the option. These clients also assert that they simply paid what they thought was their required annual fee for continued management of their accounts which they believed was calculated by Ridlon and was non-negotiable. Some of these clients were lead to believe that this was the only fee they paid Ridlon despite the fact that they were already paying significant commissions and other 12b-1 service fees.

c. Many of Ridlon's clients assert that they were never shown the first three pages of the five-page FPSA and that they were never provided with Waddell's Form ADV for Financial Planning, as required.

5. Attached as Exhibit A is a chart containing all the financial planning fees paid by over two hundred (200) of Ridlon's clients from 2007 through 2016. During this period, Ridlon's clients executed approximately 1,294 FPSAs with corresponding fees totaling over three million dollars ($3,000,000) split between Ridlon and Waddell (See Exhibit A). It's significant to note that most of Ridlon's clients appearing on Exhibit A signed their FPSA and paid their "optional" financial planning fee disguised as a required annual fee on the same month, or nearly the same month, year after year for several consecutive years. The Bureau asserts that timing of the execution of the FPSA and payment of the corresponding fee support the fact that these clients believed that they were paying a required annual fee.

6. Additionally, during the course of the Bureau's investigation, the Bureau noted certain deficiencies in Waddell's supervision of Ridlon. On December 5, 2016 the Bureau entered into a Consent Order with Waddell whereby Waddell, without admitting or denying the facts or allegations, refunded over two million dollars ($2,000,000) in financial planning fees to Ridlon's clients, paid a three hundred thousand dollar ($300,000) fine, paid three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) in costs to the Bureau, and contributed three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) to the Bureau's investor education fund. Waddell also agreed to make significant enhancements to its supervision of the financial planning conducted by its investment advisor representatives, some of which were already underway before the Bureau's investigation. These enhancements included transitioning of financial planning supervision from local supervisors to a financial planning supervision unit at Waddell's principal office in Overland Park, Kansas, as well as implementation of a new system for the submission, review, and approval of FPSAs, and certain revisions to the FPSA.

7. Initially, Ridlon cooperated with the Bureau's investigation and provided sworn testimony to the Bureau on March 10, 2016. Much of this testimony pertained to the issues raised by the original complainant as the Bureau had yet to uncover the widespread fraud Ridlon had perpetrated on most of his clients. After interviewing eighty (80) of Ridlon's clients and after discovering an alarming pattern of misrepresentations and other fraudulent conduct, the Bureau sought additional testimony from Ridlon in early 2017, however, Ridlon refused to cooperate. On January 18, 2017, pursuant to a subpoena from the Bureau, Ridlon appeared before the Bureau for sworn testimony but refused to answer the Bureau's questions apart from asserting his right against self-incrimination under the State and Federal Constitutions. Some of the questions asked were as follows:
 - a. When asked whether he lead any of his clients to believe that they were required to pay an annual fee for account management, Ridlon refused to answer the question and asserted his right against self-incrimination under the State and Federal Constitutions.

- b. When asked whether he told clients that the financial planning fees were mandatory and based on a percentage of their account value, Ridlon refused to answer the question and asserted his right against self-incrimination under the State and Federal Constitutions.
- c. When asked whether the financial planning services he provided to his clients were unnecessary based on their needs and circumstances, Ridlon refused to answer the question and asserted his right against self-incrimination under the State and Federal Constitutions.
- d. When asked whether he failed to provide the first three pages of the FPSA to clients, Ridlon refused to answer the question and asserted his right against self-incrimination under the State and Federal Constitutions.
- e. When asked whether he failed to provide the financial planning ADV to clients, Ridlon refused to answer the question and asserted his right against self-incrimination under the State and Federal Constitutions.

STATEMENTS OF LAW

- II. The Bureau hereby petitions the Director and makes the following statement of law under the New Hampshire Revised Statutes Annotated, N.H. RSA 421-B:
 - 1. Ridlon is a “person” within the meaning of N.H. RSA 421-B:1-102(39) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:2, XVI).
 - 2. For the entirety of the violative conduct described herein, Ridlon was an investment adviser representative of Waddell within the meaning of N.H. RSA 421-B:1-102(27) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:2, IX-a). All of the “financial planning services” fraudulently sold by Ridlon as outlined herein were sold by Ridlon in his capacity as an investment adviser representative of Waddell.

3. Pursuant to N.H. RSA 421-B:5-502(a) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:4), it is unlawful for any person that advises others for compensation, either directly or indirectly or through publications or writings, as to the value of securities or the advisability of investing in, purchasing, or selling securities or that, for compensation and as part of a regular business, issues or promulgates analyses or reports relating to securities: 1) to employ a device, scheme, or artifice to defraud another person; or 2) to engage in an act, practice, or course of business that operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon another person. Ridlon is subject to this provision and employed a scheme to defraud many of his clients by misleading them into purchasing optional and unnecessary financial planning services by misrepresenting that the fees charged were required and by failing to disclose the true nature of those fees. Additionally, these misrepresentations coupled with the high frequency with which Ridlon sold his unwitting clients extensive and excessive financial planning services operated as a fraud and deceit on those clients.
4. Pursuant to N.H. RSA 421-B:6-604(a) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:23, I(a)), whenever it appears to the secretary of state that any person has engaged or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of this chapter or any rule under this chapter, he shall have the power to issue and cause to be served upon such person an order requiring the person to cease and desist from violations of this chapter. Ridlon is subject to this provision.
5. Pursuant to N.H. RSA 421-B:6-604(d) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:26, III), in a final order, the Secretary of State may, in addition to any bar, suspension, revocation or denial of any registration or license, may impose a civil penalty not to exceed $2,500 for a single violation. Ridlon is subject to this provision and should be permanently barred from licensure. Additionally, Ridlon should be subject to a fine of $2,500 for every fraudulently obtained financial planning fee as determined by the hearing officer. The Bureau will establish that Ridlon's clients were deceived by Ridlon into executing up to 1,294 FPSA's, which equates to a fine of up to $3,235,000.

6. Pursuant to N.H. RSA 421-B:6-604(e) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:26, V), after notice and hearing, the secretary of state may enter an order of rescission, restitution, or disgorgement directed to a person who has violated certain provisions of N.H. RSA 421-B. Ridlon is subject to this provision. Based on the fees paid by clients as outlined in Exhibit A and after offsetting the recovery from Waddell as part of the Consent Order discussed above, the Bureau believes that Ridlon should be ordered to pay up to $1,343,427.20 in restitution to his clients and disgorge up to $1,513,711.09 in ill-gotten gains.
7. Pursuant to N.H. RSA 6-604(g) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:22, IV), in any investigation to determine whether any person has violated or is about to violate this title or any rule or order under this title, upon the secretary of state's prevailing at hearing, or the person charged with the violation being found in default, or pursuant to a consent order issued by the secretary of state, the secretary of state shall be entitled to recover the costs of the investigation, and any related proceedings, including reasonable attorney's fees, in addition to any other penalty provided for under this chapter. Ridlon is subject to this provision and should be ordered to pay the Bureau's costs of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000).

RELIEF REQUESTED

III. The Bureau makes the following requests for relief in the above-referenced matter as permitted under N.H. RSA 421-B:

1. Find as Fact the statements contained in Section I, the Statement of Facts.
2. Make conclusions of law relative to the statements contained in Section II, the Statements of Law.
3. Pursuant to N.H. RSA 421-B:6-604(a) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:23, I(a)), order Ridlon to immediately cease and desist from further violations of N.H. RSA 421-B.

4. Pursuant to N.H. RSA 421-B:6-604(d) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:26, III), order Ridlon pay an administrative fine in the amount of up to $3,235,000.
5. Pursuant to N.H. RSA 421-B:6-604(e) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:26, V), order Ridlon pay restitution in the amount of up to $1,343,427.20.
6. Pursuant to N.H. RSA 421-B:6-604(e) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:26, V), order Ridlon to disgorge in the amount of up to $1,513,711.09.
7. Pursuant to N.H. RSA 421-B:6-604(d) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:26, III), order Rildon be permanently barred from licensure in any capacity under N.H. RSA 421-B.
8. Pursuant to N.H. RSA 6-604(g) (formerly N.H. RSA 421-B:22, IV), order Ridlon pay the Bureau's costs of investigation and enforcement in the amount of $200,000.

RIGHT TO AMEND

The Bureau staff reserves the right to amend this Petition for Relief and to request that the Director of the Bureau take additional administrative action.
